

STUDENT WELFARE

Student welfare is of prime concern to the school. The International Dean, Ms Sue Fullarton, ensures that the students' needs are met.

Sue Fullarton

English language tuition and preparation for International Examinations is provided by Ms Julia Mustard, a qualified ESOL teacher.

The Dean, ESOL teacher and Hostel manager regularly liaise with the Principal - Mrs Mary Nixon, School Deans, Form Teachers, teaching staff and Homestays so that our students' academic progress, personal development and security are well monitored.

All International students are required to have a cell phone that will function in New Zealand, as well as an English speaking adult who can act on their behalf.

English Language Entry Requirements

As all classes are conducted in English, International students need a sound understanding of both written and spoken English in order to achieve well. Attendance at an English Language School prior to enrolment may be desirable.
